"I used Guard Well religiously for Parker during his 4 month battle with lymphoma. Because lymphoma can cause severe itching, Parker would sometimes chew various body parts until they bled. I used Guard Well mist whenever he started to itch, and found it helped a great deal in breaking the itch cycle naturally, which may have prevented secondary infections from forming."

"Lucky had a terrible reaction to herbicides used in the park. He itched all over - skin, eyes and ears. His feet itched so badly that he chewed them and couldn't sleep. I used the Guard Well a few times, and it helped relieve the itching."

– Meg Jorgensen, DN, Illinois

"Millie has allergies that are problematic in the spring and fall, and there are times between the seasons when she has itching fits. One evening she was scratching her ear like crazy. I sprayed a little Guard Well on my hands and rubbed the back of her ears and then sprayed a little behind her. She lay down and stopped scratching."

– Doreen Disbro, IN

"Chevy and I both enjoy the connection that rubbing him with Guard Well creates since the ins and outs of everyday life can often get in the way of bonding. I've noticed that when we use it every day, Chevy has less nervous itching."

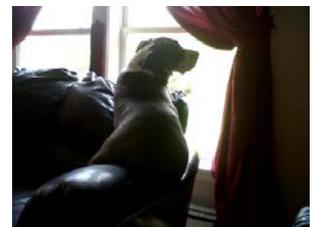

– Anna Christiansen, Laie, Hawaii

"My dogs have itchy skin, especially in the winter months when it is so dry. Kona loved the attention when I massaged her with Guard Well, and Lyla really enjoyed being brushed with the mist. Neither dog scratched a bit all night or the next day."

– Laurie Harrison, Wyoming

"Toby is allergic to grass and gets a red rash on his undercarriage when he spends too much time rolling around outside. Toby has really responded well to Guard

Well. I spray him before he goes outside for extended periods and he has yet to develop another rash. There have been much fewer episodes of scratching too and I know he's enjoying the outdoors a whole lot more, thanks to this wonderful product. "

“When we adopted Jasper, he needed medical treatment for severely infected ears and kennel cough. He also had extremely dry and irritated skin that was missing fur in some places and had big scabs in others that we struggled to heal. Guard Well turned out to be the ticket to helping him. I started out by spraying it on his ears, which were the most affected and irritated. He loved having a gentle massage on them, which I continued down the back of his head and neck. I also rubbed some onto his stomach, and I have never seen him lie so still! He loved it. Earth Heart also recommends giving a few light mists of the spray on the dogs bedding so we did that as well. Since using this treatment, I have noticed a huge decrease in his itching. He looks forward to the applications and it has been a nice way for us to help him adjust to being handled in a loving way, instead of fearing contact with humans.”

“My 7 year old Chihuahua, Ricco, has bad skin allergies. I have been massaging his ears with a little mist on my fingers and we have enjoyed his nightly tummy rubs with Guard Well. I've noticed a great calming effect, and it does seem that his shedding is cut down quite a bit, as well as his nervousness and rabid itching. I'm convinced it works for him.”

– Rachel McGuire, Springfield, MO

“My dog and I have seasonal allergies that really flare up after cutting the grass. We have been using Guard Well this season and I am feeling much better, and the dog is not feeling the need to scratch like in past years.”

– Rachel Potvin, Katoby Co., Ontario, Canada

“My own horse seemed to really enjoy the Guard Well spray when I gently rubbed it on her nose. She made it obvious to me she enjoyed the wonderful smell. She licked her lips and lowered her head to show obvious relaxation.”

– Ann Pruitt, infohorse.com

“I'm always looking to make life better for our pets, especially Thomas, who has summer allergies and frequently will bite his skin when it's itchy. I've tried Guard Well on Thomas a few times now and he seems to be responding. He's not biting at his paws anymore and he's thankfully not scratching every few minutes.”
